- This information is a projection based on our experience of the attainment of students over a number of years.
- It is not universally applicable. Many of our students exhibit spiky profiles – they achieve at a higher level in some areas of study than others.
- Some students may not be able to access particular accreditation routes because of their particular needs or because they have other curriculum requirements which are judged to be of a higher priority.
- The progression of some students may be adversely affected by periods of ill-health, absence or social upheaval, although we will always do our best to mitigate the effects.
